Museum welcomes a new Collections Management Intern

Trevor Osmond is currently interning at the Museum from Algonquin College's Museum Studies Program. He is an archaeologist with five years' experience as a field tech in Cultural Resource Management at dig sites across Ontario. He is concentrating on the care and digitization of the artifacts in our collection.

Winter Village Family Fun Day

This year's Family Day event was a tremendous success! We had over 1,000 visitors - more than tripling our attendance from previous Winter Festivals. Thank you to all our participants, volunteers, Nina, our storyteller, and the Quinlan family whose dogs provided great entertainment to many!

We hope you all had fun in the snow!

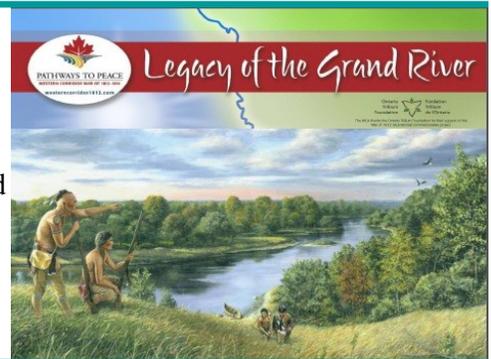

OAS Speaker Series March 14, 2013 at 8 pm in the Museum Theatre. The speaker will be Dr. El Molto of the Department of Anthropology at Western University who will talk about his past research in China. Free admission. Everyone welcome. Contact the Museum for details or visit the OAS website.

OPENING THIS MONTH:

Legacy of the Grand River Exhibition
In the Feature Gallery
March 4- April 30 2013

Learn the story of the Grand River, and the significance of the region to the American Revolutionary Wars, the War of 1812, and the Industrial Revolution.

New kiosks! The Museum is excited to introduce the installation of new touch-screen kiosks in the Permanent Gallery. We can't wait to see how they'll animate history! Amongst other programs, the kiosks will display the interactive reconstruction of the Lawson Village created by Loyalist College interns of the Sustainable Archaeology Animation Unit.

Volunteer with us! We are always happy to welcome volunteer support. Various opportunities are available! Click here for more information.
