POSITION AVAILABLE:
Field Techs for both Burlington and Toronto based crews

Division: All
Hiring Manager: Greg Pugh, MA
Operations Manager
Location: Based out of Toronto and Burlington
Employment Basis: Seasonal contract
Compensation: Commensurate with experience
Start Date: Aug 15, 2016

ASI is looking for highly motivated individuals to act as Archaeological Field Technicians for the 2016 Fall field season (Mid-August through November/December, weather dependent).

Position Requirements

Applicants must be able to identify and process artifacts recovered in the field and to recognize and interpret archaeological features and stratigraphy. Applicants must be able to develop and maintain effective interpersonal relationships. In addition, they must be thorough, meticulous, and dependable. This position will also require the applicants to work outdoors in inclement weather and undertake considerable physical effort.

Flexibility is also mandatory as some jobs may require temporary out of town billeting.

Qualifications

- Applicants must have, or be in the processes of completing, a degree in Anthropology/Archaeology. A focus on Great Lakes pre-contact and historic archaeology is preferred.
- Minimum requirement for crew members is the successful completion of an Archaeological Field School, or equivalent experience.
- A valid driver's license (minimum Class G or equivalent) is an asset
- First Aid certification is preferred

Key Responsibilities

Field pedestrian and test pitting surveys, excavations, and data recording (e.g., site maps, site records, photographs, field notes, etc.)
