

 Great Blue Heron	2 Declining heavily in the 19th century [used for meat and plumage for Ladies hats) but are now at a low concern for extinction	3 Uncommon - in decline due to habitat loss	 Canada Warbler
1 Habitat: lakes, ponds, marshes, swamps, streams. They like when water alternates with vegetative cover to hide and forage in.	4 Habitat: mixed coniferous and deciduous forest with shrubs-moss, often near water	5 Excellent fishers-were hunted/trapped frequently to stop them from eating fish at hatchery farms	6 Habitats: streams, rivers, ponds, lakes, estuaries, calm marine waters
8 Habitat: Lakes ponds, rivers, wetlands, freshwater, saltwater - prefer calm and shallow	7 Potentially most abundant bird on earth.	9 Belted Kingfisher	 Belted Kingfisher
 Mallard Duck

